

St. John's C.E. Primary School

Poplar Street

Heaton Mersey

Stockport SK4 3DG

www.st-johns.stockport.sch.uk

Policy for: Relationships and Sex Education

Author	Joanna Taylor
Approved By	Teaching & Learning Sub Committee
Date Ratified by FGB	Spring 2024
Where published / Displayed	School Website / Staff Shared Area
Review Date	Spring 2027
Target Audience	Staff, Governors & Parents
Is this a Statutory Document?	Yes

Introduction

Today's children and young people are growing up in an increasingly complex world, living their lives seamlessly both on, and offline. This presents many positive and exciting opportunities, but also challenges and risks.

St John's CE School School considers that Relationships & Sex Education (RSE) is an integral part of the Personal, Social and Health Education (PSHE) curriculum.

- PSHE makes a significant contribution to the promotion of young people's personal and social development.
- Through the promotion of PSHE, skills are developed that our pupils need for them to grow and flourish as individuals and members of society.
- PSHE contributes to helping children and young people to build their personal identities, confidence, and self-esteem.
- PSHE enables them to recognise and manage their emotions and to communicate positively in a range of different scenarios.

We believe that Relationships and Sex Education includes supporting young people in developing self-confidence in preparing them for the physical and emotional changes into adulthood.

It promotes an understanding of the range of family types and other people who contribute to providing children with the care, love and support they need to grow and develop.

We passionately believe this is paramount for teaching pupils the skills and knowledge to safeguard themselves, and prepare children and young people for the challenges, opportunities, and responsibilities of adult life, building healthy relationships and staying safe.

We aim to achieve this by

- Providing PSHE Education that is dynamic, relevant, and appropriate for the challenges and contexts of 21st century life as part of our commitment to broad outcomes for children.
- Teaching children about equality and diversity as is our duty within the Equalities Act (2010).
- Teaching about different family structures including single parent families, LGBT+ parents, adoptive parents, foster parents/carers amongst other structures.)
- •Providing our pupils with Relationships and Sex Education that is age appropriate and contributes to lifelong learning and pupil well-being.
- Having a strong commitment to confidentiality and to providing a safe learning environment where all feel respected whilst safeguarding vulnerable pupils.
- •Informing and working with parents and families to support and promote our work in school by making policies and schemes of work available in school, and on our website and supporting them should they have questions or concerns about RSE.
- •Working collaboratively with partners and agencies such as healthcare professionals etc to enrich and support pupil's learning in Relationships and Sex education where appropriate.

Legal Framework

This policy has due regard to all relevant legislation and statutory guidance including, but not limited to, the following:

- Equality Act 2010
- Children and Social Work Act 2017
- DfE 'Keeping Children Safe in Education'
- DfE 'Relationships Education, Relationships and Sex Education (RSE) and Health Education'
- DfE 'National curriculum in England: science programmes of study'

This policy operates in conjunction with the following school policies:

Safeguarding Policy Anti-Bullying Policy

Behaviour Policy E-safety Policy

SEND Policy PSHE Policy

Equality and Diversity Policy
 Wellbeing Policy

RE Policy
 Teaching & learning policy

Definition of Relationships Education

The focus in primary school should be on teaching the fundamental building blocks and characteristics of positive relationships, with reference to friendships, family relationships, and relationships with other children and with adults.

Teaching about families requires sensitive and well-judged teaching based on knowledge of pupils and their circumstances. Families of many forms provide a nurturing environment for children. (Families can include for example, single parent families, LGBT+ parents, families headed by grandparents, adoptive parents, foster parents/carers amongst other structures.) Care needs to be taken to ensure that there is no stigmatisation of children based on their home circumstances and needs, to reflect sensitively that some children may have a different structure of support around them; e.g. looked after children or young carers.

Definition of Sex Education

The DfE continues to recommend that all primary schools should have a sex education programme tailored to the age and the physical and emotional maturity of the pupils...'

Where a maintained primary school chooses to teach aspects of sex education (which go beyond the national curriculum for science), the school must set this out in the policy and should consult with parents on what is to be covered

Although it is not statutory to deliver sex education outside of the science curriculum (which is statutory) at primary level, the DfE recommends that all primary schools should have a sex education programme in place. At St John's CE School we do teach pupils sex education beyond what is required of the science curriculum – the content is tailored to the age, and physical and emotional maturity of pupils, and ensures that boys and girls are prepared for the changes that adolescence brings, drawing on knowledge of the human life cycle.

Aims of Relationship and Sex Education

Taking account of the age, maturity and needs of the pupils, Relationships and Sex Education aims to:

- To give children the confidence and self-esteem to value themselves and others
- To understand about the range of relationships, including the importance of family for the care and support of children
- To develop confidence in talking, listening, and thinking about feelings and relationships
- To be able to name parts of the body and describe how their bodies work
- To be prepared for puberty
- To understand the consequences of their actions and behave responsibly within relationships
- To be able to recognise unsafe situations and be able to protect themselves and ask for help and support
- To understand the role the media plays in forming attitudes
- To understand what a healthy relationship is both on and offline

Ensure children know how and where to access appropriate support

Safeguarding & Confidentiality

Everyone involved in the teaching RSE will be clear about the boundaries of their legal and professional roles and responsibilities. Teachers will be aware that effective RSE, which brings an understanding of what is and is not acceptable, may lead to disclosure of a child protection issue

If a staff member has any concerns or a child discloses information giving cause for concern, this must be report to the DSL and the schools safeguarding policy must be followed.

Equality and Diversity

The school understands its responsibilities in relation to the Equality Act 2010, meaning that school cannot unlawfully discriminate against any pupil because of their sex, race, disability, religion or belief or sexual orientation or gender identity. RSE will be taught to ensure quality of access for all pupils and avoiding discrimination.

We ensure our Relationships and Sex education programme is sensitive to the needs of all our pupils and their families by:

- Being aware of pupils' individual characteristics, backgrounds, attitudes, and feelings.
- Differentiating teaching and learning from our planned scheme of work to allow access to Relationships and Sex education for all our pupils including those with SEND or EAL.
- The school understands that pupils with SEND or other needs (such as those with social, emotional or mental health needs) are entitled to learn about relationships, sex and health education, and the programme will be designed to be inclusive of all pupils.

• Ensuring freedom from all forms of bullying including homophobic, biphobia and transphobic bullying as is our duty within the Equalities Act (2010) through a zero-tolerance approach within all our policies and practice.

Role of the Headteacher

It is the responsibility of the Head of School to:

- •Ensure that parents and staff are informed about our RSE policy.
- •The policy is implemented effectively.
- •Ensure that members of staff are given sufficient training, so that they can teach effectively and handle any difficult issues with sensitivity.
- •Monitor this policy on a regular basis and reports to governors on the effectiveness of the policy.

Role of Subject Lead/Team

- •Overseeing the delivery of the subjects.
- •Ensuring the subjects are age-appropriate and high-quality.
- Ensuring teachers are provided with adequate resources to support teaching of the subjects.
- •Ensuring the school meets its statutory requirements in relation to the relationships, sex and health curriculum.
- Ensuring the relationships, sex and health curriculum is inclusive and accessible for all pupils.
- •Working with other subject leaders to ensure the relationships, sex and health curriculum complements, but does not duplicate, the content covered in the national curriculum.
- Monitoring and evaluating the effectiveness of the subjects and providing reports to the headteacher.

The Governing Board should make sure that: -

- Ensuring all pupils make progress in achieving the expected educational outcomes.
- Ensuring the curriculum is well led, effectively managed and well planned.
- Evaluating the quality of provision through regular and effective self-evaluation.
- Ensuring teaching is delivered in ways that are accessible to all pupils with SEND.
- Providing clear information for parents on subject content and their rights to request that their children are withdrawn.
- The subjects are resourced, staffed, and timetabled in a way that ensures that the school can fulfil its legal obligations.

Organisation of the Curriculum

RSE will be delivered as part of the school's PSHE curriculum which has been organised in line with the statutory requirements outlined in the 'Relationships, Education, Relationships and Sex Education (RSE) and Health Education' guidance. https://www.gov.uk/government/publications/relationships-education-rse-and-health-education

At xxx we have the flexibility to deliver the content in a way that is age and developmentally appropriate and sensitive to the needs and religious background of all our pupils

At the point we consider it appropriate to teach pupils about LGBT, we will ensure that this content is fully integrated into the relationships, sex and health curriculum, rather than delivered as a standalone unit or lesson.

- All teachers will have responsibility for planning and delivering RSE.
- Everyone involved in the teaching of RSE will follow the school policy.
- A balanced and non-judgmental approach will be taken, and the personal beliefs and attitudes of teachers will not influence the teaching of RSE.

At St John's CE School a number of teaching strategies will be used, to deliver an inclusive RSE curriculum, including:

- Establishing ground rules with pupils.
- Using 'distancing' techniques (e.g. Case studies).
- The provision of a 'question box' during each planned session.
- Dealing with children's questions in an appropriate manner.
- Using discussion and age appropriate materials.
- Encourage reflection.

At St John's we follow the PSHE Association scheme of work, which is split into 3 core themes

The scheme of work maps out the lessons/units for each year group, which progresses and returns to themes as children move through the school

Core Theme 1: Living in the wider world – Economic wellbeing and being a responsible citizen

Core Theme 2: Relationships

Core Theme 3: Health & Wellbeing (including sex education)

By the end of primary school, pupils will have been taught content on:

- Families and people who care for me
- Caring friendships
- Respectful relationships
- Online relationships
- Being safe

Curriculum Links

The school seeks opportunities to draw links between relationships, sex and health education and other curriculum subjects wherever possible to enhance pupils' learning. Relationships, sex and health education will be linked to the following subjects in particular:

- Science pupils learn about the main external parts of the body and changes to the body as it grows from birth to old age, including puberty.
- Computing and ICT pupils learn about e-safety, including how to use technology safely, responsibly, respectfully and securely, how to keep personal information private and how to access help and support.
- Circle time Gives pupils the opportunity for discussion and listening to other people views and opinions
- PSHE pupils learn about respect and difference, values and characteristics of individuals.

Assessment

As with any learning, the assessment of pupils' PSHE and RSE is important as it enables the teacher to gauge individuals' progress. Pupils have the opportunity to reflect upon their personal learning experience, set goals, and record their understanding in a range of ways, including: - reflective diaries, class discussions, group work, questionnaires / surveys, and peer assessment.

Pupil voice will also be used to inform future planning for PSHE and RSE, to ensure it is both relevant and effective.

Monitoring and Evaluation

The PSHE subject leader will monitor delivery of PSHE with teaching staff to ensure consistent and coherent curriculum provision including -

- Self-evaluations
- Lesson observations
- Topic feedback forms
- Learning walks
- Lesson planning scrutiny

Consultation & the Role of Parents & Carers

The school is aware that the primary role in children's Relationships and Sex Education lies with parents and carers. We wish to build a positive and supporting relationship with the parents of children at our school through mutual understanding, trust and co-operation. Similarly, we also understand how important parents/ carers' views are in shaping the curriculum. In promoting this we:

- Will consult and inform parents/carers about RSE through the school prospectus, letters, school website and information sessions.
- Inform parents about our school's Relationships and Sex Education policy and practice.

- Answer any questions that parents may have about the Relationships and Sex Education of their child.
- Take seriously any issue that parents raise with teachers or governors about this policy or the arrangements for Relationships and Sex Education in our school.

Answering Difficult Questions

If a child asks an explicit or difficult question, the staff will use their professional judgement in deciding the best way to answer it. This may be through individual work or discussion with the child/ parent. If the staff member is concerned, they must discuss the matter with Designated Safeguarding Lead, Parent/Carer if appropriate and always follow the schools safeguarding policy.

All questions will be handled sensitively, and consideration will be given to religious or cultural factors, and to parents' wishes before questions are answered.

Language

At St John's we believe it is important that acceptable and unacceptable terminology is clarified and after initial discussion, correct biological terms will always be used for teaching.

Right of Withdrawal

Relationships and Health Education are statutory at primary school and there is no right to withdraw from these subjects. It is important for all children to be taught the content on such essential matters like friendships and keeping safe both on and offline.

As sex education is not statutory at primary level (other than what is taught as part of the science curriculum), parents / carers have the right to request to withdraw their child from all or part of the sex education curriculum.

Before considering this option, we would always encourage parents to come and talk to us.

(For more information, please go to https://www.gov.uk/government/publications/relationships-sex-and-health-education-guides-for-schools)

The Role of External Agencies

The school may liaise with external agencies to support and compliment the schools PSHE/RSE programme of study. All agencies will be aware of the schools policies and procedures and their role within them.

Any matters reported by visitors will be dealt with in line with the our Safeguarding Policy

We ensure that the teaching delivered by visitors fits with the planned programme of study. The content of lessons provided by external agencies is age appropriate and accessible for all pupils and is approved by the school in advance of delivery.

Review

- The policy will be reviewed annually.
- The policy will be reviewed in light of any changes to statutory guidance, feedback from parents, staff or pupils, and issues in the school or local area that may need addressing.
- The governing board is responsible for approving this policy.
- Any changes made to this policy will be communicated to all staff, parents and, where necessary, pupils.

Headteacher xxx

Chair of Governors xxx

Policy Review Date

Appendix 1: By the end of primary school children should know

Relationships Education

Families and people who

care for me	can give love, security, and stability.
	the characteristics of healthy family life, commitment to each the principle of the second difficulty and the second difference difficulty and the second difficulty other, including in times of difficulty, protection and care for children and other family members, the importance of spending time together and sharing each other's lives.
	• that others' families, either in school or in the wider world, sometimes look different from their family, but that they should respect those differences and know that other children's families are also characterised by love and care. This can include: single parent families, foster carers, wider family carers, LGBT+ parents, adopted parents • that stable, caring relationships, which may be of different types, are at the heart of happy families, and are important for children's security as they grow up.
	that marriage represents a formal and legally recognised commitment of two people to each other which is intended to be lifelong.
	 how to recognise if family relationships are making them feel unhappy
Caring	Pupils should know
friendships	 how important friendships are in making us feel happy and secure, and how people choose and make friends.
	 the characteristics of friendships, including mutual respect, truthfulness, trustworthiness, loyalty, kindness, generosity, trust, sharing interests and experiences and support with problems and difficulties.
	 that healthy friendships are positive and welcoming towards others, and do not make others feel lonely or excluded.
	• that most friendships have ups and downs, and that these can often be worked through so that the friendship is repaired or even strengthened, and that resorting to violence is never right.
	 how to recognise who to trust and who not to trust, how to judge when a friendship is making them feel unhappy or uncomfortable, managing conflict, how to manage these situations and how to seek help or advice from others, if needed.

Pupils should know

• that families are important for children growing up because they

Respectful	Pupils should know relationships	 the importance of respecting others, even when they are very different from them (for example, physically, in character, personality or backgrounds), or make different choices or have different preferences or beliefs. practical steps they can take in a range of different contexts to improve or support respectful relationships.
	• the conventions of courtesy and manners.
	• the importance of self-respect and how this links to their own happiness. • that in school and in wider society they can expect to be treated with respect by others, and that in turn they should show due respect to others, including those in positions of authority. • about different types of bullying (including cyberbullying), the impact of bullying, responsibilities of bystanders (primarily reporting bullying to an adult) and how to get help.
	what a stereotype is, and how stereotypes can be unfair, negative, or destructive. the importance of permission-seeking and giving in relationships with friends, peers and adults
Online	Pupils should know
relationships	that people sometimes behave differently online, including by pretending to be someone they are not.
	 that the same principles apply to online relationships as to face-to face relationships, including the importance of respect for others online including when we are anonymous.
	• the rules and principles for keeping safe online, how to recognise risks, harmful content and contact, and how to report them.
	 how to critically consider their online friendships and sources of information including awareness of the risks associated with people they have never met.
Being safe	how information and data is shared and used online Pupils should know
being sale	• what sorts of boundaries are appropriate in friendships with peers and others (including in a digital context).
	 about the concept of privacy and the implications of it for both children and adults; including that it is not always right to keep secrets if they relate to being safe.
	 that each person's body belongs to them, and the differences between appropriate and inappropriate or unsafe physical, and other, contact.
	 how to respond safely and appropriately to adults they may encounter (in all contexts, including online) whom they do not know.
	how to recognise and report feelings of being unsafe or feeling bad about any adult.
	how to ask for advice or help for themselves or others, and to keep trying until they are heard.
	 how to report concerns or abuse, and the vocabulary and confidence needed to do so.
	where to get advice e.g. family, school and/or other sources.

Sex Education

1. Programme of Study

- 3.1 In reception and Key Stage 1 (4 7 years old)
 - Children might learn about their special people; friends and friendship; learning to recognise and react to different feelings and how to keep safe.
 - They might explore how we show love and express feelings in our relationships. They might learn how we are all special and what makes us the same, what feelings we all share and what makes us different. They explore how we feel when our special people go away or even die.
 - They learn about good and not so good promises and secrets and how to say "No!", "Don't", "I'll ask" and "I'll tell". Sex and relationship education (SRE) in primary schools: guidance for parents of primary school children www.pshe-association.org.uk ©PSHE Association 2011

• They might explore growing and changing in animals, plants and people and understand that growing and changing is a natural part of living.

3.2 In year 2 and 3 (6 - 7 years old)

- Children continue to explore growing and changing. Children learn to recognise and name main body parts. This helps children understand the differences between males and females and how they change as they get older.
- They bring in photographs of themselves as a baby, toddler and child and explore how they have grown and changed and what they can do now that they couldn't do before.
- They explore the different stages of human development, understanding how some people's needs and responsibilities stay the same whilst some change as they get older.

3.3 During Key Stage 2 (8 -11 years old)

- Children explore emotional changes and how to manage feelings towards themselves, their families and others in a positive way.
- They learn that we all go through physical and emotional changes but the age at which changes happen will depend on their own personal 'body clock'.
- They learn that although people's bodies may be ready to have/make babies, they as people are not ready in many other ways (emotionally, financially, and educationally) for a long time.
- Towards the end of their time in primary school children learn the process of conception and understand the importance of loving, stable relationships. Revisiting differences in reproductive system between boys and girls, they learn how they change during puberty.
- They learn that being able to talk sensibly and learn about this is an important part of growing up.

Appendix 1 – Letter to parents

Dear Parents,

This half-term during PSHE lessons, each class will be covering age appropriate aspects of the Relationships and Sex Education Curriculum. The school bases much of its work in this area on Stockport Local Authority's Relationships and Sex Scheme of Work which is widely adopted by other schools in the borough.

We recognise that children's own families are the most important educators and the work done in school complements this. We believe, especially with the older children, it is important that they have the opportunity to discuss relevant issues in a safe environment, where they have the chance to receive accurate and reliable information. Below is a brief list of some of the teaching points addressed during these lessons:

In Key Stage 1:

- Recognise and compare the main external parts of the bodies of humans.
- Recognise similarities and differences between themselves and others and treat others with sensitivity.
- Learn how to identify and share their feelings with others.
- Recognise safe and unsafe situations
- Be aware of their actions and feelings and the impact these have on others.
- Why families are special.
- The needs of babies and young people.

In Key Stage 2:

- Express opinions about relationships and bullying.
- Respect other peoples' viewpoints and beliefs.
- About the main stages of the human life cycle
- Relationships they are involved in.
- How the media can impact on forming attitudes.
- How their actions have consequences and be able to anticipate the results.
- About, and accept, a wide range of different family arrangements.
- About keeping themselves safe, including the potential of peer pressure.
- About physical changes during puberty (Year 4, 5 and 6).
- The basic facts about the processes of conception, pregnancy and birth (Year4, 5 and 6 Only).

Should you have any queries about the content due to be covered or when these lessons will take place, please feel free to contact your child's class teacher.

Yours Sincerely,

Mr Andy Clerc

Deputy Headteacher